Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) entered the senate debate on the president's program by deciaring Mr. Truman already had sufficient power to end a strike "without a labor draft."

"I have no doubt of it," Barkley

Vandenberg contended that provisions of the emergency billwithout the power to draft strik- ! ing workers into the army-plus "moral sanctions" president's office, were sufficient to cope with the situation.

Draft to Be "Rare." "Frankly," said Barkley, "the president didn't think so. " He added that "it was felt" that the times when it would become necessary to use the power to draft workers would be "rare." Senator Ball (R-Minn) said that Republicans may attempt knock out of President Truman's emergency labor legislation authority under which strikers in seized plants could be inducted into the armed forces.

Ball made this prediction after Senator Taft (R-Ohio) to draft session of congress Saturday amendments to the bill which the house approved by a 306 to 13 for speedy action by Mr.

DIPLOMAS AWARDED STATE HOME SENIORS ON FRIDAY NIGHT

By GROVER HEIMAN
Daily Sun Staff.
Diplomas were awarded to 38
graduates of State Home school
Friday night at commencement exercises in the Home auditorium. Hall H. Logan, member of the board of control, gave the commencement address. Vera Canady gave the valedictory and Charles Turner the salutatory addresses. Logan stated that "education serves more than a livelihood," encouraged and urged the graduates to further educate themselves. He stressed ability to get along with people and personality as two necessary traits.

District Court Is Invaded By Sparrow

With no intended reflections on the balls of justice, today saw tho district court get the bird, although the bird in question is not of the Bronx variety.

A curious English sparrow gained entrance to the court via an open window. During court proceedings he made frequent sallies near the ceiling in a effort to gair. release from his prison, stopping to rest at intervals along the frieze atop the balcony or on the blinds. With dismissal of court he found opportunity to lower his altitude for a quick getaway out of an open window.

Quality Is

Value

By W. P. BROWN Of Johnson's Pharmacy

The good druggist will only advise in matters of health and medication when he can do so in strict accordance with ethical standards. The code of the conscientious pharmacist is as binding as that of the physician.

The good druggist makes quality his first consideration, realizing that anything intended to alleviate human ills must be only of the highest quality. He knows that "low price" Vitamin products, for instance, are very often formulated down to a price. At the same time he strives to give economy with quality.
